

I am blessed to be in my third year of teaching at Quad Cities Christian School. Over the past two years I have built up a physical education program full of varying sports. I also teach Health, coach the High School Girls Basketball Team and teach Archery and Survival Skills as electives. I am passionate about students learning the correct techniques in each physical activity, along with students creating fitness goals for themselves. I want every student to have the opportunity to experience a variety of sports and activities so they can remain active for life.

I was very active in High School and College. I played sports and belonged to various clubs and organizations, along with my identical twin sister. I graduated from Carl Sandburg College and transferred to Anderson University to continue my education. It was at Anderson that I really saw and experienced the benefit of Christian education. I graduated Cum Laude with a BA degree in Physical Education in 2012.

I am married and love spending time with my husband and our families. In my free time I enjoy being active outdoors and playing on my church's worship team. I've had the joy of growing up in my home church in Galesburg, IL and remain there today. While growing up, I had loving, Christian mentors that helped mold me into who I am today.
